

Finally, on this point you will note that unlike your request, I have deliberately addressed this letter to you rather than to the gentleman you identified care of your address. I would simply add that should you wish to pass a copy to him then, of course, I have no objection. I now turn to the message you left concerning the Chief Constable of Essex. I simply say to you I do not respond to messages which are so obviously inaccurate and potentially defamatory.

Yours sincerely
